

Rural Renewal Symposium

November 2-3rd, 2023

Researchers, students, rural community members, and stakeholders are invited to participate in the 2023 Rural Renewal Symposium at Quartz Mountain Lodge in Lone Wolf, Oklahoma, on November 2-3rd. This interdisciplinary symposium is organized by the Rural Renewal Initiative (link) at Oklahoma State University and sponsored by OAEC. The Symposium provides a unique opportunity to share research and connect with faculty, students, and rural community members from across the U.S. and around the world. The symposium is a place to share the latest discoveries, trends, and approaches to rural renewal. This symposium will be held in person at Quartz Mountain Lodge near Lone Wolf Oklahoma. The symposium starts at 1:00 p.m. on November 2nd and will conclude at 11:30 a.m. November 3rd.

We invite you to submit a title and 250-word abstract for a research presentation (oral or poster) to be considered. Any research directly linked to rural people or places is appropriate to submit.

Specific themes of interest include:

- Vulnerability and resilience of rural people and places
- Rural community capitals
- Rural livelihoods
